I don't really do New Years resolutions but I watched a lot of the Great British Baking show in the latter part of 2022 😊 and it gave me an idea! This year I'm doing #52weeksofbakes, and trying something I've never made every week of it.

First up:

Rosemary Sourdough Focaccia

All I wanted to do before baking it was poke the bubbles 🙄😂

The last 48 hours this has been on my mind to make!
Was going to start finding a recipe this afternoon too 🤔
was it good?!

Sounds like a great idea. I get bored cooking the same old thing so going to try a new dinner recipe most weeks, know every week just won't happen!!

That's such a neat goal!!! Can't wait to see what you bake each week!!
